Are you a disabled veteran looking for an exciting adaptive sport?

Para-Equestrian Driving is an internationally-recognized and governed, elite equestrian sport. “Para” refers to parallel to able-bodied sports, designed for the independent athlete with permanent, physical and visual disabilities seeking a competitive track. Para-Driving operates under the same basic rules as Combined Driving but places competitors in various grades based on their functional abilities.

2018 Introductory Series with Scott Monroe for Coaches & Athletes

Learn what funding resources are available to veterans in U.S. competitive and adaptive driving.
Free Online Education in Para-Driving is available to all participants.

Carlisle Academy, in partnership with the United States Equestrian Federation, was recently awarded an Adaptive Sports Grant from the Department of Veterans Affairs to support growth and participation of disabled veterans in para-equestrian sports. Participants can observe, engage in ground-work training, or take the reins in the carriage. Support drivers are in the carriage while participants learn how to maneuver through a cones course. Full tuition support for veterans is available.

For more information, contact Carlisle Academy Head of School, Sarah Armentrout, at 207-985-0374 or sarmentrout@carlisleacademymaine.com.

Scott Monroe is an International Para-Driving Coach, Licensed Combined Driving Judge and Combined Driving Technical Delegate, Level 2 PATH Driving Instructor & USEF National Combined Driving Single Horse Champion.
